The quality of nominations was again extremely high this year and to make the final selection is a real testament to their company's dedication, enthusiasm and hard work to support and advocate for the Armed Forces community. As President of the south-east Reserve Forces' & Cadets' Association, I am sorry that I was unable to thank these individuals in person due to covid-19, however it should not steer away from the importance of the positive and tangible help these businesses give to the armed forces family and their wonderful support to defence.

MBNL's Managing Director, Gervase King:

I am the Managing Director of MBNL and empathise with many of my ex-Military colleagues that the transition from being a member of the armed services into a civilian job and life can be hard for some. This is why I have continued to ensure our recruitment policies support Reservists and am proud to have 10% of our colleagues being Veterans at MBNL. I am a great supporter of the work that the Armed Forces resettlement teams do and I hope that seeing MBNL's commitment to the Armed Forces Covenant will reassure members of the serving and reserve Military that we are a great place to work.

Naval Families Federation:

We are absolutely thrilled to have been awarded the Silver ERS Award. Through our engagement with Royal Navy and Royal Marines families we have a deep understanding of the challenges that they face with regard to securing meaningful employment and career progression. It is, therefore, incredibly important to us that we demonstrate good employment practice in support of this community.
