ClassBento is bringing some love to a lockdown Valentine's Day with romantic, creative and fun date activities to enjoy from home. Choose from hundreds of classes live-streamed with an accompanying ClassBento craft box - a perfect night-in delivered.

Connecting the nation through virtual activities, ClassBento's classes can be enjoyed from anywhere, uniting local makers and artisan teachers with locked-down couples and long-distance lovers hoping to celebrate Valentine's Day from home this year.

Keeping chocolate central to the Valentine's Day celebrations, Manchester's family-run R&M Fine Chocolate is delivering a sweet truffle-making class through ClassBento this year, giving loved-up chocolate fans the chance to spoil each other with homemade confectionery. Make milk chocolate truffles or a deliciously dark vegan alternative.

A paint and sip class is another great option. Hosted by Art Sippers, this creative isolation date offers some light-hearted painting tuition and a craft kit for two containing art materials and delicious drinks.

For anyone missing their travel fix, ClassBento is ready to transport couples to the ever-romantic Sydney Harbour area for a virtual smartphone photography class at sunrise - a perfect alternative Valentine's date night for UK lovers hoping to escape lockdown and learn to snap some awesome images.

Celebrate Valentine's Day in style this year and keep your love alive with some help from ClassBento.
