Innovate Tax today announced that it is partnering with Alteryx, a leader in analytic process automation (APA). Alteryx unifies analytics, data science and process automation in one, an end-to-end platform to accelerate digital transformation and rapidly upskill the modern workforce.

The partnership with Alteryx, a leader in analytic process automation (APA) whose signature platform is used by thousands of finance teams globally, is the first of its kind to be agreed with a specialist tax technology professional services firm.

The collaboration will be welcome news for tax teams, who will now be able to leverage the code-free and code-friendly self-service analytics and process automation platform to improve business outcomes by transforming day-to-day manual tax processes into powerfully simple, automated solutions.

As experts in tax technology, Innovate Tax has a reputation for delivering technology-enabled solutions that address the real-life pain points that tax teams face on the ground, from maintaining accurate master tax data held in ERP systems to compilation of tax reports and all the many processes in between that enable this to happen.

Together, both providers are now able to offer a full stable of client-led solutions to help meet the precise and varied requirements at any point within a business' tax framework.

Nathan Farmer, Commercial Director at Innovate Tax, says: "This announcement should be seen as a landmark moment, not just for us, but for any tax team that spends countless hours wrangling data or has to grapple with endless spreadsheets – processes so time consuming and convoluted they could just as easily fall apart.”

“The partnership allows us to team our expertise and proven blueprint for building successful technology-enabled tax solutions with the enormous scope of the Alteryx Platform to transform and automate analytics and data processes.

“At our core, we have always been known for our best-in-class library of global tax content and it’s through the development and continuous innovation we’ve taken for this that we – perhaps more so than any other company out there – understand that there’s more to indirect tax than a clever bit of software. It’s about people and processes too.

“This is why we’re proud to be working with Alteryx today – this is a chance to close even more gaps, bolster tax processes and empower tax professionals around the world to wave goodbye to programs like Excel and welcome a new dawn of data-led automation.”

“We are excited to work with Innovate Tax to bring the power of the Alteryx APA Platform to even more organisations across the globe as they increasingly leverage analytics and automation to help deliver business breakthroughs” said Richard Timperlake, senior vice president of EMEA sales at Alteryx.

“By integrating our end-to-end platform into their business processes, Innovate Tax clients can make more data-driven decisions and drive better business outcomes, accelerating their digital transformation journeys.”

Innovate Tax recently completed its first Alteryx project with global telecommunications provider Lumen Technologies and is in discussions to implement the data analytics platform with other major clients.

During the Lumen project, the Innovate Tax team designed a novel tax box reporting solution that allows the business to combine data extracts from its SAP and Oracle ERP systems with the powerful processing capabilities of the Alteryx platform.

Nathan explains: “We were invited by Lumen to analyse whether Alteryx could be used to consolidate vast data sets and time-consuming manual processes into fast, reliable tax processing and to design and build a suitable vehicle for this. What we found was that integrating with Alteryx enabled us to significantly reduce the number of human inputs required to manage tax while delivering complete accuracy.

“We anticipate being able to transform tax processes for many more businesses across all industries and look forward to a long and successful relationship with Alteryx.”
