At street level, a large V1BE studio will provide a range of trend-setting high intensity classes and boutique workouts.

“We are delighted to announce our Manchester Central club” said Lifestyle Fitness Managing Director James Lawrence. “Our aim is to provide Manchester’s best workout, so whether that’s a lunchtime gym session, a post work V1BE class or a relaxing weekend workout we’ve carefully designed each space so that it can be done in style.”

“We are delighted to be working with V1BE again” James went on to say. “Part of the reason we work so well together is that we both understand the importance of community in the fitness & leisure industry. We want our members to feel like the club is a second home and a place they can feel comfortable, whatever their goals may be and achieve their goals.”

Lifestyle Fitness and V1BE have already announced a launch date for their first club in Ancoats, which will open its doors to the public on 17th May, with the second club on Moseley Street to follow soon after.

Andy Tee, a Ddirector at V1BE, added, “We can’t wait to be part of the development at Hyphen” said Andy Tee.

“Manchester is our home. We love the people, and we love providing high-quality fitness to the area. This club will allow even more people to enjoy fantastic gym facilities and get involved with the V1BE experience, which we firmly believe is the best fitness experience in the city.”
