August 5th, Swanage, UK - The Mowlem Institute Charity is thrilled to announce its first Visual Arts Exhibition on the back of a successful call for local artists to be part of a new installation at The Mowlem Theatre, Shore Road in Swanage.

'Being In Time,' an exhibition from Carrie Mason, will show from Friday, September 9th, until Wednesday, October 19th. Carrie Mason is a local visual artist and recent graduate of the Arts University Bournemouth, completing a BA (Hons) in Fine Art in 2016 and MA in Fine Art in 2017.

Carrie combines repetitive mark-making with an experimental approach to using materials in a predominantly drawing-based practice that includes work on paper, sculptural objects, video and live-action drawing performance. Carrie will show new drawings for this opening exhibition at The Mowlem. You can find more information about Carrie on her official website: Community Consultation last year identified an appetite for exhibitions of visual arts at The Mowlem. In response, we've developed a Visual Arts scheme along with Tim Edgar, local artist and former senior lecturer at Arts University Bournemouth. We're thrilled to welcome 'Being In Time' by Carrie Mason as the first of many exhibitions we hope to host in the future." said Paul Angel, Co-Chair of The Mowlem Institute Charity.

The Mowlem Institute Charity, its Trustees, staff and volunteers welcomed three new Trustees to the Board earlier in the year.

"With the additions of James, Laura and Kris, we now have a re-invigorated Board of Trustees, which embodies the wide range of skills necessary to deliver the changes highlighted in the 2021 Community Consultation. This Board is committed as ever to involving the local community in providing the organisation, programme and events that the town is looking for from The Mowlem. There is more to come and a lot of work ahead, so watch this space if you're interested in joining us," said Deborah Paige, Co-Chair of The Mowlem Institute Charity.

The Board of Trustees would also like to mention Matthew Haysom, who recently resigned as Co-Chair of the Board. Matthew had been Chair and then Co-Chair for nearly three years and steered The Mowlem through a difficult couple of years during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Matthew is replaced by Paul Angel, who steps up from Vice Chair to work alongside Deborah Paige as Co-Chair.

"Anyone who has visited The Mowlem or had dealings with the charity will know just how hard Matt has worked behind the scenes ensuring things run as smoothly as possible. He was instrumental in getting us through the COVID-19 pandemic and rebuilding the Board of Trustees in recent months. On behalf of all the Trustees, staff and volunteers, I thank Matt for all of his hard work over the years," said Deborah Paige, Co-Chair of The Mowlem Institute Charity.
